DART is hiring professional community organizers, and we’re holding two live online info sessions on February 1st and 15th to share more about this opportunity with FAMU students about the positions.

The career center has been helpful in sharing word of these positions, but we’re particularly interested in connecting with students in Psychology. Would you mind sharing the announcement below with your students?

Our organizations are working to hold police accountable, stop gun violence, fight for environmental justice, and more. We are looking for passionate organizers to do this kind of impactful grassroots work, and we’d love to add a FAMU grad to the team.

Careers in Community Organizing for Social Justice

DART will hold two LIVE online info sessions on Wednesday, February 1st and 15th at 7pm ET to discuss careers in community organizing. All FAMU students and alumni welcome, particularly those graduating before May 2023.

RSVP at www.thedartcenter.org/events

DART trains professional organizers and community organizations how to work for social, economic and racial justice, including:

* Holding police departments accountable
* Shutting down the school-to-prison pipeline
* Reining in predatory lenders
* Expanding access to primary health and dental care
* Prioritizing funding for affordable housing and job training
* Fighting for immigrants’ rights

Associate Community Organizer

Starting salary $47,000-$50,000/year + benefits

Positions begin October 2022, January 2023, and May 2023 in:

Florida: Daytona Beach, Fort Lauderdale, Lakeland, Palm Beach, St Petersburg
Kansas: Johnson County, Wichita
Kentucky: Louisville
South Carolina: Charleston
Leadership Positions
Starting salary $60,000-$70,000/year DOE + benefits
Positions begin Spring 2023 in:

Florida: Bradenton
Indiana: Evansville

DART organizations are diverse coalitions that include communities of color, low-to-moderate-income communities and immigrant communities. We strongly encourage people from these backgrounds, as well as fluent speakers of Spanish and Haitian Creole, to apply.

DART organizations are diverse coalitions that include communities of color, low-to-moderate-income communities and immigrant communities. We strongly encourage people from these backgrounds, as well as fluent Spanish speakers and DACA recipients, to apply.

To apply or learn more about DART, visit www.thedartcenter.org or find us on Instagram and Facebook @thedartcenter. Still have questions? Contact moe@thedartcenter.org or 602-510-4658.